The North Post fades into history

By WILL E. THOMAS
Times Suburban Group Editor

The 18-year-old North County edition of The Post is fading into history.

Melding the best features of the Industrial City Publishing Co. newspapers and those of the San Mateo Times Suburban Group — which will assume control of the ICP publications March 15 — today's North County Edition of The Post will be its last.

And Friday will be the last edition of Amphlett Printing's weekly Daly City Herald.

(The Times is owned and published by Amphlett Printing Co.)

Emerging as an improved news and advertising package will be a Daly City Record that will replace both The Post and The Herald.

The Westlake-Daly City-Pacifica Post's first edition was May 9, 1962, when market filet steaks sold for $1.59 a pound, rib roasts for 89 cents a pound and mayonnaise in a 24-ounce jar for 29 cents.

The headlines of that first issue of the Post — of which Monte Dayton, now The Times advertising and promotion director, was operations manager after being with the Westlake Times and the Daly City Record — told readers that Oceana High School in Pacifica was opening its doors, construction was set on the Fairmont tract of Pacifica and wildcat strikes possibly might hamper construction of new buildings and facilities at Jefferson High School in Daly City.

Longtime readers of The Post and of ICP's Record will recognize many of the same names, faces and features in the Suburban-published Record, which will be delivered each Wednesday and Saturday.

Post-Herald columnists Le Pacini (sports), Nell Norton (foods), Samuel Chandler (books), Louanne Heath (organizations and clubs), Diet Workshop and the campus reporters from Westmoor, Jefferson and Serramonte high schools will join ICP's editorial columnist Vincent Mager and social and club reporter Lola Garcia in a more comprehensive newspaper.

In addition, the new Record will include the Peninsula North listing of activities of interest in the North County communities we serve and a summary of business news in the Marketplace to go with business features prepared by the Suburban Group staff.

Your voice, as well as ours, will be offered as we continue to offer knowledgeable comment through columns, editorials, local editorial cartoons, feature articles and letters to the editor on the Viewpoint page — another carryover from ICP.

And readers will have a competent staff of reporters looking out for the public interest in government circles, searching for the interesting, unusual individuals and groups that make up our communities and backgrounding the people and subjects that make day-in, day-out news.

These fulltime professionals on our staff include Jean Catino, John Curry, Bill Hurschmann, Mager and Heidi Van Zant.

In addition, there will be the free-lance photography of award-winner David Dornlas.

Not only that, we can generate more news of interest from elsewhere in the county sooner than ever before through our computer ties with The Times newsroom. We can take advantage of efforts by reporters throughout The Times system — in San Mateo and Redwood City, as well as in our own immediate coverage areas.

Through these same connections, we can provide all the current prep sports stories — plus Copley, McClatchy and other general news feature services. "San Mateo Times Suburban Group Newspapers" emerged as a "title" for our North County - Mid-County weekly and twice-weekly controlled circulation operations when we attempted to find a reasonably compact "name" for people to use in referring to us.

We sought to avoid everyone having to go through a laborious recitation of seven individual newspaper titles (We also publish the San Bruno Herald, the Enterprise Journal in South San Francisco, the Recorder-Progress in Milibrae and Burlingame, the Coastside Chronicle in Pacifica, San Francisco Today and the Brisbane Bee).

We have changed our mailing address as well.

Previously we had one post office box number in San Bruno, where we once had our facilities, and another in South San Francisco, to where we moved a couple of years ago.

And ICP had its own.

Now, to send material to us by mail, use this address:

Times Suburban Group Newspapers
Post Office Box 2527
South San Francisco, Ca 94080

To reach us by telephone please dial 952-4105 for the newsroom; 952-4100 for circulation; 952-4111 for the Want Ad Department; 952-4115 for display advertising and 952-4102 for all other departments.

If you're driving over to see us, we're at 1331 San Mateo Ave., South San Francisco, off South Linden Avenue at one end and Airport Boulevard Produce Avenue at the other.

My, isn't change easy.

Anti-litter ordinances introduced

Two new city ordinances, aimed at graffiti and littering and the result of a community anti-crime forum Feb. 26, were introduced by the Daly City City Council Monday night.

Drawn up by City Attorney Albert Polonsky, one would ban the sale of aerosol spray to persons under 18 years old and the other would prohibit possession of open containers of alcoholic beverages on any street, sidewalk or tot lot in the city.

Both will be up for final adoption in 30 days, but the open container ordinance may undergo one change.

Much of the discussion was about the original "street, sidewalk or public place" wording.

Polonsky said this would include the city parks, which brought a protest from Mayor Victor G. Kyriakis about it possibly making lawbreakers of families who take beer om a weekend picnic.

"We should encourage people to go out and have a picnic," Kyriakis emphasized.

There is a "hiatus in the law" now on open containers, which means that local police can do nothing about them outside a vehicle, Polonsky pointed out.

He said, "We have nothing to prevent people from going into the War Memorial Center and drinking. I thought this wording would take care of problems at Westlake Park. This is an attempt to get at all the problem areas. Police would use their discretion on picnics in the parks."

The same could be said for neighbors sipping some brew in their driveways while they worked on cars or whatever, Kyriakis suggested.

Councilman Albert Teglia, who had asked for the ordinance at the Feb. 26 meeting, said its intent "is to give some protection to store owners" from rowdies drinking on the sidewalks in front of their businesses, and "give police a handle to get these hoodlums off the street so people can walk into these stores."

Councilman Anthony Giammona said he thought the ordinance also might help police to break up beer parties by young people in school parking lots.

There have been 100 and 150 people at "beer busts" in the Westmoor High School lot after night football and basketball games and "there are cans and broken bottles from one end of the school to the other," he said.

The change to "tot lot" was made for now at the suggestion of Mrs. Roseanne Emerson, 594 Gellert Blvd., who also told of drinking at Gellert Park.

Polonsky said he also would consider a wording change to prohibit booze in parks after 7 p.m.

He is consult with Recreation, Parks and Maintenance Director Charles Vincent to determine which parks would be affected.

Several residents told of noisy groups of young people, men and women, drinking and throwing their cans and bottles in the street in the neighborhoods of old Daly City and of picking up the mess after the parties.

Ernest Pezzola, 163 Miriam St., warned that the ordinance would be difficult to enforce, but Kyriakis replied, "Let's give it a try, anyway."

The same philosophy governed the council's attitude on the spray can ban. Graffiti is everywhere, and citizens at the Feb. 26 forum insisted something must be tried to stop it.

Giammona said of the ordinance, "It will show them (juveniles) that if they want to buy it, they'll have to go to Colma or San Francisco. This ordinance won't stop it, but it's a start."

He said also that he has found most young graffiti writers are 11 to 15 years old. He argued with a suggestion that a wall be set aside for graffiti.

MIDNIGHT WHEELIES

Someone got onto the Savage school site at the foot of Cerro Drive in Daly City last Thursday night and raised havoc with the freshly-planted grass with a series of spins in what must have been some pretty wild driving. The 23-acre field, originally earmarked for a middle school by the Jefferson Elementary School District, had been fenced and planted by the Daly City Skylions Club for use as an athletic field by local youngsters and sports teams. Skylions President Al Garibaldi surveys the damage. The culprits had removed the gate in the chain-link fence off Cerro Drive to enter the field. The Skylions, who have spent some $16,000 so far on the field, have offered a $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators.

Kendree: World's oldest Scout?

By JOHN CURRY
Post Staff Writer

You might say that Ulmont R. (Jack) Kendree of Daly City is one of, if not the, world's oldest Boy Scout.

But then, Kendree likely would agree and get out his current Boy Scouts of America sustaining membership card.

He paid his annual $10 dues just after his 79th birthday last month and the card is dated March 6 — 68 years after he first joined a Scout troop in his old home town of Faribault, Minn.

As far as anyone knows, he's been a Boy Scout member longer than anyone else in the Bay Area, starting with the then-new Scouts when he was 10.

Through service in World War I as a Royal Air Force pilot, then 30 years in oil company marketing, 20 years as an executive with the Henry Doelger Corp. in Daly City, and most recently as executive vice president of the Hunt's Donuts chain until his retirement, the Canadian-born Kendree has kept his Scout dues paid.

Those early formative years of Scout campouts at Roberts Lake near Faribault and other Scout activities that occupied the entire summer left their impression on him and his family.

There weren't any Cub Scouts or Explorers then, just Boy Scouts, and no large national programs. The activities were pretty much up to the individual scoutmasters, who planned what to do and financed it from donations by parents.

Scouting was the thing do to for a boy, Kendree recalled, "especially in the summer, when school was out. The whole summer was taken up with Scouting. The boys always had a definite program of something to do when they weren't in school."

His Scout experience was a factor in getting him his commission as an RAF pilot during the "Great War," Kendree said, just as it later was to benefit his son, U.R. (Al) Kendree Jr., in gaining admission to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. Al Kendree was commissioned at West Point and was decorated with the Silver Star in Korea in 1950. Now 56, Kendree Jr. is an insurance agent in San Jose.

Another son, Jack M. Kendree, now 54, just as his brother, went through Scouting to its highest rank, Eagle, and now is an urban planning in Georgetown, S.C.

The elder Kendree also happily describes two grandsons, Dirk Rothe, now an Eagle, and Dan Kendree, a Scout.

Because of his busy schedules during his working years, Kendree never went the route of many parents as a scoutmaster or serving on Scout councils, boards or committees. But, he said, he's always been there to run meetings, hold troop presentations, etc.

Working for the late Henry Doelger "was practically a 24-hour-a day job," he chuckled.

One of the highlights of his later years as a promoter of Scouting was his expense-paid visit to the 1967 World Scout Jamboree in Idaho, where he visited and talked to troops from San Mateo and San Francisco counties.

That was tremendous," he said.

"Scouting today is much more organized that in his youth, when his interests were divided between the great outdoors with his troop and developing his skills on the violin.

"In my day, a troop had to act on its own because Scouting was so new. There was no public support (such as United Crusade or sustaining membership income), and no central organization for activities," Kendree said.

Kendree and wife Gertrude, reside at 80 Montrose Ave., in one of Doelger's earlier Westlake subdivisions, into which they moved while Kendree was founding the Daly City Rotary Club and serving as one of the first presidents of the Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce.

His bushy, black eyebrows now turned to gray, Kendree is still a fixture at civic group luncheons, but admits he's slowed down in recent years, preferring to stay home evenings and enjoy the fine view of most of Daly City and of Mt. Davidson and the ocean from his living room window.

Because of the era of equal rights and equal opportunity, the mandatory question arose: "Are there any Girl Scouts in the family?"

"No, but I was a Bluebird," Mrs. Kendree said.

Low income housing may be part of zoning

A recommendation from its Community Development Block Grant Advisory Committee for an "inclusionary" zoning ordinance was referred to staff for study by the Daly City City Council Monday night.

The CDBG committee letter said that after several discussions, including one with a federal Housing and Urban Development official, who explained the Housing Assistance Plan, it was decided unanimously that the city should look into such an ordinance, which would require "all new developments to have a minimum of 10 percent of their units available to and affordable by low moderate income persons."

A staff report from Mary Jo Dutra, the city's CDBG coordinator, points out that several cities around the state have such ordinances which provide developers with such incentives as priority processing of development applications, density bonuses and waivers or modifications of some other requirements.

Julius Castelan, a CDBG committee member, told the council that 4,000 housing units have been built in the city in the past five years, while the city has been applying for federal low-income housing funds. Neither the private nor public projects have produced a single new home for a low- or moderate income family, he said.

Elderly people are being hit hard by the lack of affordable housing also, Castelan said.

Mrs. Susan Sweeney, another committee member, said such an inclusionary plan would "scatter" the low- and moderate-income families, because clustering them in one neighborhood "isn't considered desirable."

But while the city mulls this idea its present housing rehabilitation program was treated harshly by some speakers Monday night.

The council agreed with its Rehabilitation Advisory Committee that the program should be extended to the Bayshore area at the eastern limits of the city. The committee decision was via a telephone concen-

Members of the Beta Sigma chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority are preparing to participate in the Serramonte Shopping Center's Spring Bazaar for the seventh time!

As in past years, the sorority's booth will feature a book carousel and all proceeds from the sales at the booth will be donated to the St. Jude Research Hospital. This is a cause with which the local chapter has been closely identified and all members are pledged to help with the bazaar.

Mrs. Kay Huckaby will be hosting the members of the chapter when they meet later this month to plan for the state convention. This year chapters from all over California will be sending delegates to Palo Alto May 28 through June 1 and the Beta Sigma chapter will be among the bay area groups charged with leadership roles.

Those traveling seniors from Pacifica are preparing to be "on the go" again!

March 27 a group of Fifty Plus Club members will board buses for a drive down Highway 1 to visit the Naval Post Graduate School in the Del Monte Hotel at Carmel. Following a tour of the famous old inn, club members will reboard their buses and continue on to the Carmel Mission, founded during California's Spanish period by Father Junipero Serra. After touring the mission the junketeers will continue on to Cambria Pines to spend the night.

On Friday morning tour members will visit San Simeon and tour the Hearst Castle, drive on to Paso Robles for luncheon and then journey on to San Luis Obispo where they will switch from bus to train for a trip over the Cuesta grade to San Jose. The return trip, from San Jose to Pacifica, will be aboard buses.

For more information about the tour contact Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg or Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan.

sus, with five of the six members reached approving.

Conrad Pavellas, co-chairman of the Original Daly City Protective Association, criticized the poll asking, "Does this committee meet by phone?"

He said he had gone to one of its meetings to complain about faulty rehabilitation work being done in old Daly City by contractors, but wasn't allowed to speak.

Of Bayshore, he said, "I certainly wish them well and hope they fare better than we did."

Ernie Pezzola, the other ODCPA co-chairman, cited examples of allegedly poor work by contractors, such as incorrectly installed window frames, piping that didn't work and repaired roofs that still leaked.

City crews were sent in to make the necessary corrections, "just so the rehabilitation program wouldn't look so bad," Pezzola charged.

In another CDBG matter, the council approved transfer of money in four CDBG programs.

Some $10,000 left over from a Bayshore park project will be transferred to the John Daly tot-lot fund. An unwanted litter program in the Bayshore area will be dropped and the $11,000 allocated to it will go to finishing the storm drain project in that neighborhood.

A remodeling of a garage for use by the Guadalupe Health Center isn't feasible because the garage is too far gone, so the $19,800 programmed for it will be used to rewire the three floors of the health center building.

The John Daly tot-lot also is to get $20,000 from an "economic development" category of the CDBG program.

Taking a good look at the electronic media

Perspective

By ARVILLE FINACOM

Several years back, media analyst Marshall McLuhan called television a "cool" medium in which viewing participants are not required to be involved.

Unlike "hot" radio, where one is forced to imagine faces and figures to fit voices, TV watching is a passive activity.

Volumes of research have been published about the "good," the "bad," even the "indifferent" effects of TV on viewers, but little has been said about coping with the medium, consciously accepting it as a part of daily life.

One Bay Area group, Reviewing Stand/North, the Northern California inter-district, mass media committee of the California State PTA, decided last fall that this neglected viewpoint was valid and entitled its recent fifth Annual Mass Media Conference "TV — A Fact of Life."

Education spokesman Stewart Dimon, principal of San Mateo High School, began his comments by reiterating the truth of the conference title. "TV is here to stay," he emphasized, countinuing, "Schools have not taken enough advantage of what's good on TV."

Print media, in the view of Rick Malaspina whose TV column runs daily in Oakland should consider the TV industry "as a serious news beat."

William Kartozian, chairman of the board, Theater Association of California, admitted the heavy influence of TV on the movie industry that now considers cassette and commercal or cable TV important ancillary markets for its product.

RADIO ANNOUNCER Jerry Gordon, whose 8 p.m.-midnight broadcast slot on KSFO Radio includes mystery drama, a comedy hour, re-broadcasts of "golden age of radio" classics as well as fifties revival in "Gordon Graffiti," calls radio the "theater of the mind" and admits that proliferation of TV sets in the early post-World War II years forced radio stations into "specialization to serve lifestyles."

Although all four panelists did not have a chance to dialogue among themselves — Dimon and Malaspina were morning guests; Gordon and Kartozian appeared in the afternoon — conference participants were able to question all of them at length.

Through these questions, as well as a few personal statements by members of the audience, participants indicated a concern about the conference theme as well as some frustration with it.

Speaking directly to this sense of helplessness, Dimon stressed that control of TV in the home is directly related to parenting practices. Although he does call for interaction between the TV industry and parents' organizations on the corporate level, he stresses, "We are our own TV keepers."

Urging parents to keep in mind that the TV viewing coin is a "drug — a habit forming narcotic" on the one side and "a valuable education tool" on the other, Dimon also reminded that "those who don't watch TV today are 'out of it'; they have nothing to discuss with the peer group" (at least on the high school level).

Malaspina called also for greater "discretion and supervision by parents" of a child's TV watching. He admits to writing his column as "an ordinary TV viewer" to help the general public "in its living room," as well as TV people "in the corporate board rooms of the industry," understand the effects of TV on everyone's life.

Characterizing himself as a "child of the TV age," Malaspina's goal through his daily column is to "ask quetions, blending the attributes of an average viewer with those of a news reporter."

One of his chief questions is, "Does the TV industry know what it is doing?"

Earlier in the conference, Principal Dimon voiced a similar concern: "Does the medium feel that violence, rape and mayhem are a reflection of society? Does TV describe or prescribe morals and ethics?"

In Malaspina's view, more "hard, investigative reporting about TV" may help answer both his and Dimon's basic concerns.

Afternoon conference speakers Kartozian and Gordon, representing as they do aspects of mass media in direct competition with TV for participants' time, were sanguine about current conditions in their industries. Although movie-going fell off sharply between 1948 and 1969 — 90 million persons went to the show weekly in 1948; 19 million weekly in 1969 — today the figures are climbing. The 1978-79 measurement year showed 26 million weekly, some 42% of these in the 12 to 39 age group.

Basically, moviegoers differ from TV viewers, not in what they want to see but in where they want to see it. Many moviegoers go to "get out of the house"; a number attend because of the social mix of a theater crowd; some go simply because special effects, such as wide screen and wrap-around sound, are impossible so far on TV.

Although parent groups continually cry for more "G" films for family viewing, Kartozian commented, almost with tongue in cheek, that only 11 percent of moviegoers goes "as a family." Either parents go "to get away from the kids"; or kids go "to get away from mom and dad."

Gordon, commenting that the Bay Area is a "good radio listening area," also made the point that radio reaches only thousands while TV reaches millions.

TV, therefore, becomes the prime entertainment medium while radio, for the most part, is an information medium and "backgrounder," providing news and music at times when people cannot watch TV.

One exception may be Gordon's own shows, which because of both format and content, do not "background" easily. Gordon admits to riding the crest of the nostalgia wave, adding that some of the shows he announces are compleely new productions, done in the manner of old time radio, but often with very contemporary themes.

Perhaps the simplest way to summarize conclusions participants drew from the conference is to repeat the somewhat wistful words of Jeanne Bertini of Millbrae: "Perhaps media should try to make us better than we are."

If RS/N conference coordinators were listening, in Bertini's words they may have an idea for next year's conference. We'll wait and see.

Anyone interested in knowing more about the conference or discussing the on-going activities of Reviewing Stand/North is invited to call Mrs. Bertini at 871-6721 or Ruth Galindo at 756-8786.

THE GOURMET Presents

CORNED BEEF—O'RIELLY

Very simple to prepare

Place a 5 to 6 pound piece of brisket or bottom round corned beef into a large kettle of cold water (enough to cover meat). Add one medium sized onion stuck with 6 cloves, a bay leaf, 2 cloves of garlic, a sprig of parsley and a stalk of celery. Bring meat to a boil. Lower heat, cover and let simmer approximately 3½ hours. Serve meat cut in thin slices with steamed buttered cabbage, turnips, carrots and onions.

Variation: Cook meat same as above but only for 2 hours, remove meat, drain and place in a baking pan in 350-degree oven. Make a mixture of brown sugar and mustard, baste corned beef frequently with this mixture while baking. Bake approximately 1½ hours and serve. Serves 6 to 8.

Serve with a delicate Gamay Rose

Jeff students don't favor nationwide draft

By MARCO PANATTONI

If Jefferson High School students had control of the surrenct situation concerning the draft, they would turn down any proposai to bring back a nationwide draft of young men and women.

The results of a poll taken recently of more than 100 Jefferson juniors and seniors shows that 79 percent oppose the possible reinstatement of the draft. An overwhelming 94 percent of the senior females along with 86 percent of senior males oppose the draft.

The students also gave the impression that they believe a return of the draft could possibly lead to war.

"It should be up to us if we want to join the military," commented one junior female. "Let's stop the U.S. and Russia from playing checkers with our lives!"

A junior male said, "I am in favor of the draft because it's necessary to strengthen our military," while another student reacted, "The U.S. doesn't have the right to take a person under any circumstances."

The students also were questioned what they would do if they received a draft notice. 63 percent said they would face the consequences of the draft. One-third said they would attempt to move out of the U.S. to avoid the draft.

Just 4 percent claimed they would stay in the U.S., but go to prison to avoid the draft.

Of all ten junior females who were polled, none said they would face prison, while 7 percent of the junior males said they would probably face a prison penalty to avoid the Army.

Sharp reaction came from all of the students when asked if they thought women should be drafted. The findings of this question showed the females strongly opposed to being drafted, and the males in favor of women being drafted.

"If women are to have equal rights, then they should hafe the same responsibilities as men," said a senior male. Three-quarters of his male classmates agreed.

A junior male said, "If men should go, then women should go; because they are always fighting for equal rights." The junior males did not react so strongly in favor of women being drafted, however.

Senior females showed the strongest opposition with 95 percent saying they are against being drafted. One senior female said, "I don't think women should be drafted. They are a bit too frail and emotional to be put in the line of combat. Maybe they could be placed in medical and clerical positions."

Of the junior females, 70 percent are opposed to the drafting of women.

Following are the poll questions and results:

Question 1: Should the U.S. bring back the draft?

	Yes	No
TOTAL	21%	79%

BRANCHING OUT

These new reward signs are being posted on street trees by the Anti-Crime League of Daly City to discourage vandalism. The ACL is offering a reward of $250 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone breaking, cutting or removing the trees, over 170 of which have been planted by the city in recent years at the request of residents as for beautification of their areas. But many of the trees have been defaced, severely damaged or removed by vandals, particularly in the Lincoln Park area of old Daly City.

Help Wanted

The following agencies have requested assitance from the Volunteer Bureau/Voluntary Action Center of San Mateo County.

SPECIAL OLYMPICS — Volunteers are needed for the next Special Olympics April 19 at Mills High School, Millbrae. Guides, assistance officials, runners and registration helpers are needed. Orientations will be April 9-10 in the evenings. Volunteer applications must be received by March 14.

MILLS HOSPITAL — The next orientation for volunteers interested in hospital work is scheduled March 15 at 9:30 p.m.

MARTIN ADULT SCHOOL — Volunteers preferably with some teaching experience are needed a minimum of four hours a week for at least three months in South San Francisco. The positions of teacher sssistant involves teaching English as a foreign language individually or groups to students 18 or older.

PARTNERS — Adults volunteers are needed to provide personal caring on a one-to-one basis for troubled youngsters 10 to 18 years of age. Meeting is scheduled March 11 and 13, 7:30 p.m., in San Carlos.

EASTER SEAL TELETHON — Volunteers are needed in San Francisco for the 1980 telethon March 22-23 between 8 p.m. Saturday and 5 p.m. Sunday. The jobs to be filled are telephone operators (with legible handwriting and accurate spelling), typists, sorting and filing, registrars, verifiers and runners.

WESTLAKE COMMUNITY CHURCH — A volunteer is needed to care for toddlers and babies Sunday mornings in Daly City while parents attend services.

PALOS VERDES SCHOOL — A tutor is needed in San Bruno two hours at a time by a retarded trainable 12-year-old girl who needs help with reading.

HEALTH FAIR 80 — Medical and non-medical volunteers are needed in April for the Centers in San Mateo and Burlingame. The Centers provide general health care and information to the community.

Interviews will be made in Daly City by appointment only. A project of the Assistance League of San Mateo County, the Bureau shares in the United Way of the Bay Area and is funded, in part, by the county of San Mateo and by private contributions.

Jeff senior takes first for typing

By TINNIAE McCONICO
KAREN WONG

Mary Ann Paras, a senior at Jefferson High School, took first place in the recent CBEA Bay Section Typing Contest. She typed at a speed of 92 words per minute, net.

She has been typing for five years, and will compete in the state finals at Heald College in Sacramento March 15. Mary Ann also has been selected to compete in the Bank of America 1980 Achievement Award Program.

"I'm a little nervous," she comments," but it will be an interesting experience."

She started with an electric typewriter. Her parents told her to keep it up. Her future plans are to go to college to major in business administration and minor in computer science.

CLASS ACTIVITIES

Now that the second semester is underway at Jefferson, all seniors are anxiously looking forward to the upcoming activities, but are apprehensive about what lies ahead after graduation.

Besides the annual senior gong show coming in the middle of March, the biggest attraction is the Junior Senior Prom on April 12. On this night, half the students of Jeff will dance to the music of "Mystic Nights" in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

Tickets will be sold throughout the week, beginning with March 24, for $20 a bid. With the theme "Love's Holiday" on everyone's minds on that special night, this first-of-the-decade prom should be very memorable.

Piano, organ classes at Jeff

The Jefferson Union Adult Division will offer three classes in piano and organ for the spring quarter beginning March 17.

The beginning piano class will start 7 p.m. March 17 at Serramonte High School, Room 227. This class is for those who have no previous piano experience.

On March 18 at Serrramonte in Room 227 at 7 p.m., an organ class will be offered. This class is for all level of organ playing from beginners to advanced.

On March 20 in that room at 7 p.m., the intermediate piano class will be offered. This class is for students who already have a basic knowledge of the keyboard.

For details call the Jefferson Adult Division.

PREPARING FOR P.A.L.

Captain Roger Austin, left, president of the Daly City Police Department's Police Athletic League, is accepting the proceeds of the annual PAL golf tournament from Al Garibaldi of Gari and Associates. The tournament is sponsored annually by Gari and Associates as a community fund raiser for the PAL program. The 1980 tournament will be May 14 at the Cypress Hills golf course. Interested men are asked to circle their calendars and contact Garibaldi at 587-1993 for tickets and information. The Daly City Police Department boasts having the oldest PAL program in the state of California.

250 at meet on school closing

About 250 people attended a San Bruno meeting Thursday on the coming closure of one of the four northern campuses of the San Mateo Union High School District.

The district's trustees have voted 4-1 to shut one of the four — Burlingame, Capuchino, Crestmoor or Mills — by September of 1981.

The trustees aim to name at least one school for closure, and perhaps a second as well, by this summer. They have decided to take this course because of accelerating decline in enrollment and accompanying financial problems.

The district projects the 1975-to-1985 enrollment loss at 2,528 students, mostly in the northern portion of the district, an area hit hard by steep enrollment drops at the elementary school level.

According to the administration, the district anticipates an annual operating deficit of about $1 million per year for the next five years.

Earlier this week, the trustees attempted to address that deficit — and the issue of teacher overstaffing — by laying off 54 teachers and seven nurses in 1980-81. Dismissal letters, due by March 15, will affect some teachers with up to nine years of service in the district.

Two trustees, Carol Gonella and board president Donald Langendorf, have argued that the district ought to close a school by this coming September so that between $679,000 and $714,000 can be saved.

But a majority of the board has held firm so far and the 1981 closure date remains relatively fixed. However, the board has warned the public that if Proposition 9 is approved this summer by the California electorate, school closure in 1980 would be a real possibility.

Mrs. Gonella, speaking Thursday at Parkside Intermediate School at the first of three public gatherings on the subject of school closure, told the audience that if Prop. 9 passes, three campuses may be shut.

Trustee Joseph Castelli, the lone board member opposed to closing any school, told the crowd that even considering the closure of a second school was "preposterous," let alone a third school.

Mrs. Gonella and Castelli were the only two trustees present at Thursday's meeting. They answered questions from the audience after Superintendent Austin Sellery explained the district's enrollment slump and its fiscal condition.

A total of 26 people spoke from the audience. Most said they live in either Millbrae or San Bruno. Millbrae has one high school, Mills, while San Bruno has two, Capuchino and Crestmoor. All three, along with Burlingame, are targets for closure.

And, Mrs. Gonella offered, as far as a second closure is concerned (scheduled tentatively for five years from now if things continue to get worse for the district), San Mateo High School might be examined as well.

She said the only two schools which appear to be safe right now are Hillsdale and Aragon, both in San Mateo. "They are packed to the gunwales," she said.

Castelli went even further. He said, if the board is committed to naming a second school to be closed, he will push to have the second school be one of the three in San Mateo.

"I will definitely bring this up to the board," he declared to applause and cheering.

One speaker alleged that trustee Ruth Steiner had recently stated publicly that the second school to close will be Burlingame.

Contacted by The Times this morning, Mrs. Steiner said, "I didn't say that. I said, if a second school must close, it certainly might be Burlingame."

She added, however, that she further said, "If Prop. 9 passes, all bets are off. It would be a whole new ball game. Then Burlingame would definitely close. And we'd probably close a school in 1980, too. That's my personal opinion. I'm not speaking for the board."

The San Bruno gathering was an attempt by the board and the administration to begin hearing the public's views on closure.

They got a lot of comments and suggestions. Among them:

- The board ought to consider creating a specialized, structured high school to lure students back from private schools.
- More fiscal economies could be made by cutting at the administrative level.
- Tenure laws for teachers are hampering the layoff process because, too often, the best and the youngest instructors are getting the ax.
- Schools to be shut ought to be named as soon as possible to "get it over with."

Press Women grant

California Press Women, Northern California Chapter, an organization of professional communicators from all segments of the media is sponsoring the 1980 scholarship competition.

The award will be presented to a man or woman in a Northern California journalism department who has at least one semester of work left toward a degree, with either a major or minor in journalism.

The scholarship of $400 which is offered this year is higher than before, thanks to assistance from Saga Corporation of Menlo Park, according to Janet Parker Beck, CPW president.

To be considered, applicants must:

- Submit at least two or no more than six examples of articles they have written that were published during 1979 or early 1980. The articles need not be mounted.
- Write no more than 150 words on "Why I am interested in a journalism career."
- Provide a biography of no more than two pages, including information about education, future goals, college activities, awards won, name, address and telephone.
- Include a recommendation from one instructor or advisor in journalism.

Entries must be received by March 29. Winner will be notified in May.

Applicants should mail entries to California Press Women Scholarship Competition, c/o Terry Davenport, 1300 Mills Ave., Burlingame, 94010.

IN SAN DIEGO

Navy Seaman Recruit Omar C. Perez, son of Juvenal and Soledad Perez of 1292 Crystal Springs Road, San Bruno, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Program to minimize retail theft

A new program, directed to minimizing losses due to theft in retail businesses has been announced by CAPTURE-Citizens' Crime Prevention, Inc., of San Mateo County.

Melvin D. Turner, CAPTURE's executive director, said the new program would be in the form of a series of lectures and demonstrations for merchants and their employees.

Turner said the program would be administered by Bruce Goldsten, who comes to CAPTURE from a post in the crime prevention unit of the Old Bridge, New Jersey Police Department.

The program has been structured to help any retail business in San Mateo County which is grossing around $100,000 or more, according to Turner. It will be presented in a one-day seminar, or in a series of presentations over a longer period if the business desires. Follow-up evaluation and consultations are provided three months later.

Goldstein has had extensive experience in research analysis and development of crime prevention techniques and in their appropriate application.

He places the emphasis in retail loss prevention on people rather than hardware. His seminars are designed to instill a sense of responsibility in employees and to make the employees the principal deterrents to losses.

Goldstein said he borrows freely from the principles of the management by objective system and uses them to create a change of attitude among employees.

"The point is to get the employees to look on their work as a career and not just a job," Goldstein said. "This helps to convince them that their investment in their work is a long-term commitment and that their interests are best served by helping their employers.

"There are some remarkable instances where, as a result of similar seminars, employees have changed their attitudes toward their employers from apathetic, or even antagonistic, to friendly and helpful."

However, Goldstein still discusses the wide range of modern theft prevention devices in his presentation. He also talks about shoplifting laws, arrests and methods of interviewing suspects.

AARP sets meeting

The American Association of Retired Persons will hold its regular meeting on March 15, at the Senior Center, 230 Grand Ave.

Registration and payment of chapter dues will be taken from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. The 1980 dues are due and payable and must be paid by no later than March 31.

If not received by that date, membership will be cancelled. Members who reside outside of South San Francisco and who do not pay their dues by March 31 may not re-apply for membership, according to the Chapter's standing rules.

As of Feb. 29, there were 566 members.

The meeting will begin at 11 a.m. Councilwoman Roberta Teglia will show slides of her recent trip to China.

Also on the program will be speaker David E. Miller from Law Corporation who will speak on the subject of state inheritance taxes. He will speak on ways that members an help to get this important issue on the November, 1980, ballot.

The business meeting will follow the program.

There are many tours planned for the members and sign-up and payment of tours will be from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. and after the business meeting.

Tap dancing is coming back strong

Tap dancing, which seemed to be going the way of violin playing as a youth activity, is coming back strong.

And guess who's bringing it back? The high school teen-agers.

In JeNeal Ann Granieri's dance classes at South San Francisco High School, you can hear the tippity-tappity-tip all day long. Boys as well as girls are doing it.

"I've always danced, since I was 5," says Miss Sam Seward, a petite 16-year-old junior. "I really like it."

She and the other tap dancers are practicing their routines for the school's spring dance concert. They will be wearing the traditional top hats and tails for the big show at the South San Francisco High School auditorium March 27-28.

"We like to perform. That's part of the fun," said Marlissa Webb, also 16, who takes two tap dancing lessons a week besides the school dancing.

"People who haven't seen stage dancing by young, talented and enthusiastic dancers, or who haven't seen it for a long time, are in for a pleasant surprise," says Ms. Granieri. "Our production class has choreographed some of the dances themselves. I teach them the techniques, but they have come up with their own movements."

Ms. Granieri says more and more high schoolers are choosing dance as an elective. She now has six classes, from beginners to highly skilled seniors who create their own routines.

"Dance is athletic, it takes work," she says. "But it is also definitely an art."

The new interest in tap dancing and jazz dancing has wide open opportunities, says Ms. Granieri, while in ballet dancing "the movements are generally pretty straight, written down and formal."

Ballet still appeals to many young dancers, however, she said, and the dance concert will include selections from modern dancing as well as jazz and tap dancing.

"Some students take dance as a substitute for physical education as sophomores. But they take it as juniors and seniors because they like it," the teacher said.

"The classes are mostly girls, but we have 10 boys in dance and we are trying to get more. A boy has to feel secure with himself to do it."

The dance groups perform throughout the year at assemblies, and in a number of programs for the public with the band and chorus. The spring dance concert, however, is where dance is the main event.

Adult division offers courses

Several courses are beginning this month under the sponsorship of the Jefferson Union High School District Adult Division.

Cantonese Country Cooking class, open to persons who have some working knowledge of basic Chinese cooking, will begin March 19 at Terra Nova High School. Cost is $32.

LaMaze classes will begin March 19 at the Westmoor High School library. The course consists of seven sessions and offers education to expectant parents seeking to understand and participate in their child's birth.

Three classes in piano and organ will be offered.

A beginning piano class will be Monday evenings at 7 at Serramonte High School; an intermediate piano class will be Thursdays; and an organ class will be Tuesdays.

A Stress Reduction/Management Class will begin March 18, 7-9 p.m., at the Westmoor High School library. Fee for the 10-week course is $13.

A class in "Learning a String Instrument" will be offered at Westmoor beginning March 20, 7-9 p.m.

The class is for people who have never played an orchestral string instrument or want to relearn the basics. Tuition is $13.

THE DALY CITY RECORD

THE DALY CITY HERALD and THE POST

Effective March 19, 1980

You will start receiving a new and improved Daly City Record every Wednesday and Saturday. The Daly City Herald and The Post are being discontinued. This new and improved Daly City Record will have more local news about your community, more interesting features, and more advertising from the stores you shop than any other newspaper you have been receiving.

If you have been a regular reader of the Daly City Record, Daly City Herald and/or The Post, you will recognize many of your favorite columns and features, plus new ones you are sure to enjoy.

Here's what your new Daly City Record is going to have:

Local News: The Daly City Record's news gathering staff will have more people covering Daly City and the surrounding communities than any other paper has had or will have. In addition to staff writers Jean Catino, John Curry, Bill Hurschmann, Vince Mager, Heidi VanZant and Editor Will Thomas, watch for local news columnists Bessie Baughn, Arville Finacom, Lola Garcia, and Louanne Heath. There will be Peninsula North, which will keep you informed about what's happening in the North County, and Pulse, which will tell you all about our North County community personalities. There will be campus correspondent reports from Jefferson, Westmoor, Serramonte, Mills, Crestmoor, South San Francisco, El Camino and Capuchino High Schools. There will be reports from the McClatchy and Copley News Services. Your Daly City Record local news coverage will be the best available.

Editorial Page: Viewpoint will bring you opinions on issues of interest to North San Mateo County, that have been thoroughly researched. Editorial columnist Vincent Mager and editorial cartoonist William Cone will be regular contributors to Viewpoint.

Sports: Local sports columnists Lee Pacini and Carl Reyna will be regular contributors in addition to the coverage of prep sports of North Peninsula and Mid-Peninsula League Schools.

Business: Marketplace will bring you the important local business news and there will frequently be summaries of world business news. The Shopping Spree column will bring you interesting and informative shopping tips about unique businesses and services.

Religion: Religion digest will bring you the local church and religion news every Saturday.

Features: The NEW Daly City Record's features will include: Sam Chandler's Book Column, Dr. Barnett's Pet Column, Diet Workshop, Nell Norton's Recipes and a variety of features from Copley's feature service.

Jeff cagers win in CCS finale

Jefferson High's basketball season ended on a happy note Saturday at Stanford's Maples Pavilion, when the Indians won the Central Coast Section consolation championship with a 53-45 win over Los Altos.

The fifth-place finish was the highest ever for a North Peninsula League school, and the 24 wins Jefferson accumulated tied a school mark for most wins in a season (against 5 losses).

But there was also some bitterness.

"I am disappointed in that (Ernest) Dupree wasn't named to the all-tourney team," Jeff Coach Bud Bresnahan said. "There is no excuse for his not making it. He had better overall games than a few of the guys who did make it."

Bresnahan, however, pointed out that the Dupree non-incident was the lone negative occurence during playoffs.

"We've had a very good season," said Bresnahan. "We're happy with the finish."

Jefferson took an 8-0 lead at the start of the game and never looked back. Dupree finished with 19 points to lead the Indian offense.

Dupree, playing in the shadow of former Jefferson standout and current Skyline player Darryl Jackson the past two years, came into his own this year, finishing second in the NPL scoring race on a team that had four players averaging in double figures.

Dupree is considering attending San Jose State next year, but is listening to a few other college recruiters.

"Not only was Dupree the team's top scorer," said Bresnahan, "but also second in assists and rebounds."

Against Los Altos, Dupree helped the Indians overcome a tough ball-control team. Los Altos didn't shoot until it got the ball into its 6-3 forward Mark McKeen, who scored 28 of Los Altos' first 36 points. McKeen ended with 31 points after Jefferson went to a zone and chaser.

"We didn't get much of a chance to run," Bresnahan said. "But I was proud that the guys played slowdown and still executed well."

Riordan won the CCS title with a 57-45 win over Fremont of Sunnyvale. Willow Glen downed Mt. Pleasant 56-55 in overtime to capture the third place trophy.

Local matmen lose

For county high school wrestlers, the finish wasn't so glorious, but the season's achievements pointed to a better tomorrow.

Cliff Gosse of Crestmoor, considered to be the best candidate to finish high in the state high school wrestling meet at Cal-State Los Angeles Saturday, was eliminated early.

It wasn't much better for anyone else.

"The competition was simple awesome," said Oceana Coach Bill Gray. "We were competitive as far as skill and technique, but the physical ability and pure strength of the wrestlers couldn't be handled."

Jefferson's Charlie Banfield and Oceana's Phil Thomas were the most successful county wrestlers, but no one placed.

"The fact that we sent eight North Peninsula League wrestlers to the state meet (plus one each from the Mid-Peninsula and South Peninsula Athletic Leagues) proved something," Gray said. "Now we have to keep improving the wrestling programs to be competitive on the state level.

"The NPL still had a good year," said Gray. "The programs are getting stronger. But we don't face as tough competition as some of those kids do all year long. As a league, we're developing and the coaches get along well. We are a unified group working to better the sport. Wrestling is no longer a behind-the-scenes sport in the NPL. We have been able to generate a lot of interest."

Laney stifles Colts

Canada College has yet to win a baseball game in the Golden Gate Conference.

The Colts lost a 6-3 decision to visiting Laney and its left-handed pitching ace Angelo Gilbert Saturday, dropping to 0-4 in the GGC. The first four games have come against the favored teams.

"Gilbert did an excellent job of pitching against us," said Colt Coach Lyman Ashley.

Gilbert allowed just three hits to match the three Canada runs in going the distance.

"Laney is the best team we've played yet," Ashley said. "I knew they would be tough from the start."

The Colts did get a solid relief job from pitcher Kevin Smith. Coming in the top of the seventh, Smith gave up a single and then proceeded to get eight straight Laney batters out.

"We made too many bad pitches," said Ashley. "We got behind early, came back, but they kept coming back."

Laney scored first on a two-out error before Billy Swanberg connected with a two-run home run in the bottom of the second to give the Colts an early 2-1 lead. Laney took the lead back for keeps in the third with a pair of runs.

Bearcats unbeaten

San Mateo High exploded in a doubleheader win during the Menlo Atherton Baseball Tournament Saturday.

In the first game against Gunn, Jim Roake went the distance to record an 8-1 win over the visitors.

Gregg Blumenfield collected two hits, including a home run, while Don Sparling, Roake and Eric Jacobsen all collected two hits each.

The Bearcats downed M-A in the second game 10-4, as Tom McCue collected a pair of hits and Mike Shields got the pitching victory, with relief help from Don Jocz.

San Mateo is currently 5-0 during pre-season.

CCS girls' soccer

Slow start hurts Wildcats

SAN JOSE — Fast and physical Palo Alto High completed an undefeated season by stinging Woodside 3-0 in the Central Coast Section girls' soccer title game Saturday.

The Wildcats (12-3) shook off their early lethargy in the second half, going to the ball and taking five or six good shots on goal, but couldn't score.

Woodside was far from depressed over its showing. "I wasn't that disappointed with our game," noted assistant coach Ann Gruye. "We played well in the second half, and had to play well all season in order to come in second in the CCS."

"Palo Alto (19-0) is a good team, well-disciplined, fast and goes to the ball well," commented Gruye. "They deserve their championship."

Woodside goalie Debbie Finch had a busy day, making 11 saves. The senior goaltender was impressive in the second half with a high leap to stop one attempt and dives to both sides to blank Paly in the second period.

Seniors forward Val Bartlett and fullback Mara Bun played well in the three games of tournament play; both were selected for the CCS All-Tourney team.

"We were too uptight and nervous in the first half," said Bartlett, "and they just beat us to the ball. We calmed down later, but it was too late. I wish we could have played better, but Palo Alto is a strong team."

A number of Woodside players were slowed by nagging injuries, including a knee injury to halfback Carol Cator, suffered before the game, and a spiking to fullback Jane Stucky. Halfback Jenny Jeffries picked up the slack on defense and controlled the ball well in the midfield.

NICK OF TIME

Woodside has been in the final four in each of the four years that the Central Coast Section has sponsored a girls' soccer championship. The Wildcats won the first CCS title in 1977, and have finished third and fourth in subsequent years.

"I was disappointed with our first half play," commented head coach Ann Wilson. "But it was hard for the girls, because Palo Alto has a mob on the bench, and they kept bringing in fresh players. We took the action to them in the second half, but it's hard to beat a team once they've got their adrenalin going. But, all in all, it was a satisfying season."

Bulldogs lose in the ninth

College of San Mateo's baseball team blew a 5-4 ninth inning lead and dropped a frustrating 6-5 decision to visiting Diablo Valley Saturday.

With the loss, the Bulldogs drop to 1-2 in the Golden Gate Conference race. Tuesday CSM travels to De Anza (2-1) for a 2:30 contest.

CSM led 3-2 at the end of six innings, and then matched single tallies by Diablo Valley in both the seventh and eighth frames. But the Vikings posted two runs in the top of the ninth to win.

DVC got a double, single and another single to open the ninth, tying the game. That was the end of tiring CSM starting pitcher Brian Silvas. He was relieved by Brad Miller.

Miller struck out the next hitter. CSM Coach John Noce then brought in lefthander Dan Hourigan to face a lefthanded DVC hitter. But he left Miller in the game, putting him in the outfield.

Hourigan didn't improve the situation, walking his batter, loading the bases. Back came Miller. He got the next hitter to fly out, but it was deep enough to score the runner from third with the game-winner.

It was another case of lack of offensive firepower for CSM. The Bulldogs collected just five hits, and scored only one muscle run, on Ralph Akchurin's homer in the second. CSM scored three runs on walks and the other on an error.

San Mateo stranded 10 men on base, leaving the sacks loaded in the seventh and the eighth.

Silvas, who hadn't pitched in a while because of a tender arm, worked very well, striking out nine before tiring.

Foianini paces CSM in GGC Relays

HAYWARD — Curt Foianini ran two fine half-mile legs and squeezed in a 171-foot javelin throw as College of San Mateo participated in the non-scoring Golden Gate Conference Relays Saturday at Chabot.

Foianini ran a 1:56.4 anchor leg in the sprint medley relay to give the Bulldogs fourth place in a respectable 3:35.7, although Diablo Valley won in 3:30.9. His 1:58.2 two lapper in the distance medley sparked CSM to third in 10:52.3, as Foothill won in 10:24.7.

In the field, CSM tied for second in the high jump relay and was third (just a half inch out of second) in the three-man long jump relay.

CSM competed without key relayist Rick Luttrell, a 55.4 intermediate hurdler who has been hampered by an injury. Coach Bob Rush hopes to have him back for San Mateo's conference opener on Friday with City College of San Francisco at West Valley.

Sequoia girls split 2-2

SAN JOSE — Sequoia High's girls' softball team opened their 1980 season by finishing in a seventh place tie in the 16 team Santa Theresa Softball Tournament Saturday.

The Cherokees were 2-2 in the tourney, and were eliminated on Saturday in their third game of the day against Ayers of San Jose, 2-1 in extra innings.

After beating Westmont 5-4 Friday, the first day of play, Sequoia came back to lose to Piedmont Hills, 5-4, blast Yerba Buena, 12-5,

State tennis takes entries

Entries are now being accepted for the California State Tennis Championships, which will be held April 28 through May 4 at the Berkeley Tennis Club.

Kaiser Aluminum of Oakland has put up $20,000 in purse money, which will be shared by the winners in the men's and women's championship divisions.

Chicago Title wins

Chicago Title of the San Mateo Over-30 women's soccer league beat Las Vieras 3-1 in a soccer match Saturday.

Chicago Title was led by the defensive efforts of Marilyn Pointer, Donna DeRoss, Joan Palmer and Beth Ann Barris.

Local booters

SUNNYVALE — Mario Gomez scored the winning goal in a shootout Sunday as the Peninsula Youth Soccer Club took a 5-4 win over the Soquel Rovers in district competition.

The score had been tied 4-4 after the regulation 50 minutes and two overtime periods.

Also scoring goals for the locals were Danny Gilbert (2), Paul Nelson and Steve Simpkins. Mike Walsh was in goal for the PYSC.

Locals do well

Despite fine performances from several County athletes, the San Jose State track team lost a close 80-74 decision to the University of California at Edwards Stadium Saturday.

Former College of San Mateo pole vaulter Kim Black reached 17-0 to place second behind teammate Felix Bohm (17-3) in that event.

Clearing all of the trivia off of the desk

Le Pacini

This is one of those weeks when the trivia and miscellanea clogging the desk must either be thrown away or printed. And, as my wife can bitterly bear witness, I never throw anything away. So:

As any NBA fan knows, UCLA is the concensus alma mater of the NBA, currently boasting of 14 former Bruins on NBA rosters, but how many know who has sent the SECOND greater amount of players to the NBA? Not many know that it's North Carolina. And ever fewer know, I'll bet, that the show team is Marquette, with eight.

USF has sent seven, while South Carolina, Indiana and the University of Nevada-Las Vegas has developed six current NBA'ers.

Other strong contributers are Kentucky, Notre Dame and USC with five, and Auburn, Kansas, Minnesota and the University of Detroit, with four.

It seems hard to believe, considering the year the Warriors are having, particularly on offense, that four of their top 10 all-time best field goal percentage shooters are on the current roster. They would be Clifford Ray, who is at the top of the list (52.8), Sonny Parker, third (51.2), Robert Parish, eighth (49.0), and Phil Smith, ninth (48.0).

And perhaps equally hard to believe, considering the lack of an alert Warrior defense "this year, is that three of their top all-time leaders in assistants also are playing this season: Phil Smith, who, with 477 entering 1979-80 was behind only Rick Barry's 929; Ray, fourth; and Parker, sixth.

Ready for another one? Four of their all-time best shot blockers also are cavorting for this team: Parish, who, with 434 entering the season, was just 73 behind leader George Johnson; Ray, third; Phil Smith, sixth, and Parker, seventh.

"It had a very innocent beginning," Dr. J once said in an interview. "I called someone 'professor' and he called me 'doedor.' All the other things that have been added to it — operating on his opponents; more moves than Carter has liver pills; that stuff — all those things came later."

Headed that P.R. men have pushed the nickname so much that, "now some people know who Dr. J is and don't know who Julius Erving is."

Despite the shortcomings mentioned above, three Warriors rank high in current important NBA stats: Parish is tied with Jack Sikma of Seattle for fifth (11.3) in rebounding; John Lucas has sneaked into third place among assists leaders (7.8), and Parker is seventh in steals, which is an unusually high placement for a front court man, unless you're Rick Barry in his prime.

Among the semi-pros, St. Mary's finished 12th nationally among Division I schools in team free throw shooting, while USF, also of the West Coast Athletic Conference, was eighth nationally in team rebounding margin.

Still not finished. We all know that O.J. Simpson was the Highest paid professional football player last year, with a salary of $806,668. But do you know what position in pro football has the highest paid individuals? If you say quarterback, you're wrong, but just barely. Of the 11 best paid players in the NFL last season, six were running backs (Simpson, Walter Payton, Chuck Foreman, John Riggins, Franco Harris and Delvin Williams, in that order) and five were QB's (Bob Griese, Archie Manning, Dan Pastorini, Ken Stabler and Bert Jones, in that order.)

The highest paid NFLers by position were: Running backs, Simpson; quarterbacks, Griese ($400,025); receivers, Russ Francis ($202,333); offensive linemen, Gene Upshaw and Art Shell ($150,000); defensive linemen, Le Roy Selmon ($218,000); linebackers, Jack Ham ($230,000); defensive backs, Willie Buchanon ($175,000); and kickers, Russell Erxleben ($110,714).

Yes, we even have some baseball statistical trivia. Of the 26 official pitching statistical categories listed by the National League, a Niekro was the leader in exactly half of them last year. Phil of Atlanta shared one with Joe of Houston and won 10 categories of his own. Joe shared the leadership in two others.

Ready for this?

Phil and Joe tied for most wins (21). Phil had the most losses (20), most starts (44), most complete games (23), pitched the most innings (342), gave up the most hits (311), faced the most batters (1,436), gave up the most runs (160), pitched the most gopher balls (41), walked the most batters (113), and hit the most batsmen (11).

Joe tied with Steve Rodgers of Montreal and Tom Seaver of Cincy for most shutouts (5), and tied with teammate J.R. Richard for most wild pitches (19).

Some other leaders in stats that you might not see in your regular daily newspaper:

Daye Winfield of San Diego led in most intentional walks (24); Greg Luzinski of Philadelphia was hit 10 times with pitches (how many times would they have plunked the poor guy if he had had a good year?); Steve Garvey of the Dodgers grounded into the most double plays (25), and Craig Reynolds of Houston grounded into only two twin killings.

This isn't exactly trivia, but the thought suddenly strikes me that few fans — including those in Pittsburgh — fully realized how important Enrique Romo was to Kent Tekulve's great success last year.

How can a relief pitcher be important to another relief pitcher, you say? In Romo's case, it was because he unofficially saved games for Tekulve to save officially. In other words, Romo usually went in before Tekulve and kept the game close enough to produce a situation where Tekulve could enter for a chance at a save.

But turnabout is fair play. When Rich Gossage had his great year for Pittsburgh in 1977 (13 wins, 26 saves, 1.62 ERA), it was Tekulve who was filling "the Romo role" for Gossage, with 10 wins but only seven saves.

Only attendance of the dedication of Marino Pieretti Field Feb. 23 prevented me from attending what must have been another gala athletic affair, the 50th and 88th anniversaries, respectively, of the Young Corbett-Jackie Fields non-title welterweight bout and the Joe Benjamin-Jack Silver Pacific Coast lightweight title fight.

In the world of boxing, both bouts were historically important. When Corbett decisioned Fields that day at Recreation Park (Old Rec) in San Francisco, he proved to one and all, including himself, that he was of champion ship calibre. Exactly three years later, to the day, he made it official by outpointing Fields once again in San Francisco to win the welter weight title.

The Benjamin-Silver fight, also at Old Rec, was the first outdoor fight in San Francisco under a new law which legalized professional boxing in 1925. Benjamin took the Washington's birthday fight and with it the Pacific Coast lightweight title, in an era when such titles meant something.

And for those who think fighting was especially rough in those days Benjamin, Fields, Corbett and Silver all attended their Mission Street anniversary lunch.

INDIAN PRINCESS

Marilyn Loveless, a junior and co-rally commissioner, has been selected as Indian Princess for 1980 at Jefferson High School.

The Indian

By ROSIE TEJADA, TINNIAE McCONICO and KAREN WONG

Marilyn Loveless was chosen Jefferson High School's Indian Princess of 1980 at the Indian Princess ball Feb. 22. The annual event invites the Jefferson student body to vote for the princess of its choice from a field of nominees from various Jeff organizations.

Loveless, representing the student government, received a turquoise ring, as did princesses before her.

The other nominees were Linda Kahapea (pep staff), Melanie Los Banos (Horseman's Club), Sue Aton (Asian Club), Ursula Rance (Basketball Club), Veronica Bartholome (Polynesian Club), Laura Garcia (Art Club), Estrellita Paras (CSF), Mary Ann Paras (International Club), Shirley Soberon (Filipino Club), Christina Taliva'a (band), Felicia Lawless (BSU), and Ana Morice (Latin Heritage).

ATHON

Debbie Welch and the Jefferson High School gymnastics team conducted a cartwheel-athon to raise money for warm-up outfits Feb. 13 at the Jefferson gym.

All gymnasts completed the number of cartwheels they pledged. So far, they have collected almost enough money to purchase the warm-ups.

Physical eduction teachers Nicki Fisher and Gesha Kurrell were the official counters. Over 1,000 cart wheels were done.

The team coach, Debbie Welch, says, so far the cartwheel-a-thon is a success.

CLUBS

Candy-filled Easter baskets and cute bunnies are just two of the many items which the Art Club is busy constructing for its annual Easter sale begining March 24. This sale gives club students a chance to show off their artistic ability and the club a chance to make some money.

A profit of approximately $75 was made during the candy sale in mid-January.

Besides looking forward to Easter, the members of this active club are also selling flowergrams to be given out St. Patrick's Day.

How will the Art Club handle these two big activities at the same time? Member Maritza Gutierrez says that half of the club will concentrate on selling flowergrams, while the other half will focus on making objects for the to-be-terrific Easter sale.

In April this club again will have a candy sale.

The two newest clubs at Jefferson are the Polynesian and the Asian club.

The Polynesian Club, with Steve Mezzera as advisor, is getting its final list of members. Officers of the newly formed club are: President, Lisa Lagafua; vice president, Lolo Mulitalo; secretary, Leona Aquino, and treasurer, Zenobia Jennings.

Women's Guild slates luncheon

The Women's Guild of the Convent of the Good Shepherd will sponsor a luncheon and fashion show March 26 at the Empress of China Restaurant, 838 Grant Ave., San Francisco.

Mrs. Halvor K. Faber, chairman, invites members and friends to attend. Oriental fashions, jewels and furs will be shown, concluding with a ribbon dance.

Luncheon at $11 will be served at 12:30, preceded with no host hour at 11:30. Reservations can be mailed to Mrs. Silvio Del Bucchia, 3149 Gough St., San Francisco 94123 or Mrs. Lou Gonez, 70 La Cresta Drive, Orinda, 94563.

Looking for members

The North San Mateo County League of Women Voters is holding a free hot luncheon for prospective members March 26 at 11:30 a.m.

The League is non-partisan, non-profit and is open to all men and women over age 18.

For details and to make a lunch reservation, call the League at 952-2981 or 756-2499.

Child care will be available. March 20 is the deadline for children and lunch reservations.

Twins Club to meet

The Coastside Mothers of Twins Club will hostess a fashion show-luncheon at the Airport Plaza Inn, Millbrae, March 22. The luncheon will begin at 11:30 with no-host cocktails.

Ticket donation is $10 and proceeds from the fashion show-luncheon will be donated to Stanford Children's Hospital.

The fashions to be modeled will be from Ross Department Store in San Bruno and the fashions will be modeled by members of Coastside Mothers of Twins Club, including Karen Davis and Pat Boehle of San Bruno and Carol Molyneux of Belmont.

Your Guide To Greater Savings

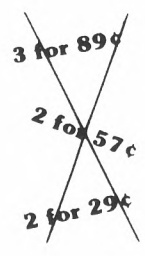
Exclusive Key Buys

Manufacturers give supermarkets a temporary promotional allowance to stimulate sales on certain products. All supermarkets are offered this allowance, but what makes the difference is Lucky passes the allowances on to you in the form of lower prices. We call them KEY BUYS and they normally carry a lower price than our everyday low discount price.

Weekly Valu-Finder

Whenever you shop Lucky, don't forget to pick up a copy of the Valu-Finder. It's an up-to-date listing of additional Key Buys and new items available. We don't have enough space in our regular weekly advertisements to list them all, so we publish the Valu-Finder as a way you can realize additional savings each week. So each time you shop...look for the Valu-Finder!

Single Item Pricing



Confused by prices like 3 for 89¢ or 2 for 57¢? This is called multiple pricing and is used by several supermarkets to entice you to buy more of an item. Lucky does not subscribe to this practice. Lucky has one price for each item, so you know exactly what it costs. You save as much on the purchase of one item as well as on several.

Save On Small size

At Lucky, the "Guaranteed Value Per Measure" policy guarantees the larger size of a product is always a better buy than the next smaller one. In rare cases, where this is not true, you are informed of this fact by special shelf signs...S•O•S "Save On Small size." Let's hear a cheer for city councilmen and county supervisors. Too often we hear them being chastised by people as ignorant, as James Russell Lowell's Mr. Biglow, who called local officials "the people ollers ez slick es molasses and butter their bread on both sides with the masses."

Slick, indeed! Is it slick to spend day after day wrestling with problems as complex as building codes and crime in the streets? Is it slick to volunteer to run a city or a county on budgets reduced by meat axe initiatives? Is it slick to sit for hour upon hour listening to testimony that is usually verbose, and seldom relevant?

Slick means to be smooth, shrewd, superficial, vapid and sensational. Is it slick to run for a job that places you near the never-ending blaze of public censure, the whipping boy of every jack straw on the street, the judge of hundreds of municipal workers?

And all for little, if any, remuneration and little, if any, chance for advancement up the rickety ladder of public service. Slick people wouldn't touch a councilman's or a supervisor's job with a proverbial 10-foot pole.

It is said that councilmen and supervisors are ambitious. So what! If ambition prompts them to take on the task of dealing with the government's problems, then I take my hat off to ambition.

It is said that they are egotistical, but it takes a shot of self-love to walk from one civic problem to another with pools of failure lying near every step. It is said that they are crooks and the tools of influence peddlers, yet very few have been convicted of subverting the well-being of the people to that of special interests.

To borrow a statement from Keith Preston, supervisors and councilmen are citizens who are chosen "to touch live issues."

Their decisions reach every resident of the communities they serve. Theirs is the awesome responsibility of governing a unit that touches "practically everything we do," as Magruder's text observes, "at any time of the day or night — and frequently in quite important ways."

Magruder continues, "It is the states and especially their local governments which most directly and continuously affect the daily business of living in this country . . . . that this is so can be illustrated by an almost limitless number of examples drawn from a great many fields — including, especially, public education, roads and highways, law enforcement and public health and sanitation. The fact that we are not constantly aware of them does not diminish the degree of their importance to us."

So let us hear a cheer for councilmen and supervisors. Of their job Thomas Jefferson wrote, "No duty is at the same time more difficult to fulfill."

Question: As most of us know who have owned pets, some dogs and cats are just not bright — others are too bright, especially the energetic ones. We have a mixed-breed spayed female who has enough energy for three dogs. She is absolutely "driven" and can't remain still for a minute. We've tried tranquilizers, but hesitate to use them regularly because we don't want a pill-addict for a pet. Do they slow down eventually?

— K. P.

Answer: Yes, they usually slow down eventually, but you may get old waiting. Some dogs that are highly nervous (terriers are especially bad) will remain hyperactive most of their lives and only slow down when they get old and feeble. I don't recommend use of tranquilizers either.

Question: My daughter's green turtle is in good condition, but his eyes stay shut unless he pries them open with his feet. Maybe he had too much sunlight when we first got him. What can we do?

—L. J.

Answer: Eye ailments in turtles are most commonly caused by dietary deficiency (usually Vitamin A deficiency).

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Come March 17, many of us will be donning the green and thinking Irish in honor of St. Patrick's Day. Along with wearing green and thinking of things Irish, how about baking this darlin' apple cake?

IRISH APPLE CAKE

3 cups flour
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks
1 cup butter
Grated rind of one lemon
1 can (16 oz.) applesauce
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 9x9-inch baking pan.

Sift and measure the three cups flour. Into a large mixing bowl sift the flour, three-fourths cup sugar and a half teaspoon salt. Add the one cup butter, three egg yolks and grated lemon rind. Work together well.

Divide into two parts.

Press half the mixture into the bottom of greased baking pan. Mix the one can applesauce with the half teaspoon cinnamon and fourth teaspoon cloves and spread over flour mixture. Crumble rest of mixture over top.

Bake 50 minutes in 350-degree oven.

Serve warm topped with whipped cream or ice cream.

The next question is what to do with the remaining three egg whites? Why not bake a batch of meringues using my favorite method. You simply put them in a hot oven, turn off the oven and leave them overnight. They bake while you sleep.

FORGOTTEN MERINGUES

3 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 small package semi-sweet chocolate bits

Remove oven racks and heat oven to 400 degrees.

Beat the three egg whites until foamy. Add the fourth teaspoon each salt and cream of tartar, continue beating until stiff. Add the one cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. The meringue will be very stiff. Fold in the half teaspoon vanilla and package of chocolate bits.

Drop by heaping spoonfuls onto heavy brown paper. Lay on oven racks. Place in oven, close door, turn off oven. Let stand overnight in oven.

THE DIET CORNER
By ELISE GENDAR

Fat is nothing new.

More than 2,000 years ago Hippocrates said "Corpulence is not only a disease itself, it is a harbinger of others to come."

Right on! Fat is more than fat, it is dangerous. If the newspapers heralded an epidemic for which vaccines were available, wouldn't you rush all family members off to the doctor for a shot? Would you put up with any excuses, any postponements, any arguments?

Yet the fat epidemic is sweeping the country. That's because yearly we cut down on the amount of physical energy we expend — AT ALL AGE LEVELS. It's a real task now when we push a button to get something accomplished. I sit here and type on an electric machine that takes all the strain and reduces it to a little tap.

That's why we must innoculate the upcoming generation against fat early. It has to be a consistent, ongoing program that starts in the home with you. Your meals must set the example for your family to follow when they eat away from your watchful eye.

Too many children turn into vegetable-shunning, fruit-ignorant adults because they were brought up to expect something rich and gooey as the capper to every meal. Love is not a warm cookie; love is good nutrition.

If you insist, love can be a gourmet touch without a fattening addendum.

Take time to love well enough to tell your family why they are eating what they are eating. Children love facts and little children especially love scientific names. They sound mythical and magical. That's how the food commercials get across to them. Get your own commercials across to them now. It's important. It's the gift of a lifetime.

ORANGE ALASKA

2 medium size sweet oranges
1 egg white
2 pkts artificial sweetener
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Slice off 1/3 from stem end of each orange. Scoop out all pulp, catching juice in a cup as you work. Place juice and pulp in blendeb and blend for one minute at high speed. Pour this into ice cube tray and freeze. Refrigerate shells. When the juice and pulp are frozen almost solid, beat with electric beater until of sherbert consistency.

Refreeze. Beat again. Fill orange cups. Freeze until ready for serving. Preheat oven to broil. Make meringue of egg white by beating until stiff. Add artificial sweetener and vanilla. Pile on top of sherbert. Place 6 inches away from broiler and watch closely.

Should be golden brown in approximately 3-5 minutes.

The Pot Sticker re-opens Sunday

Welcome news to longtime fans of the Chinese cuisine offered at THE POT STICKER restaurant in San Mateo is the announcement that its grand re-opening takes place this Sunday (March 9), after being closed for a month of extensive remodeling and enlarging. Owner FRANK TSUI is offering 10 percent off anything and everything on the menu March 9-30 as an expression of appreciation to valued friends and patrons for patience during the remodeling. Frank also proudly introduces a new chef, direct from Taipei, who joins the regular chef to augment the extensive menu of Szechuan, Hunan and Mandarin cuisine. ... The only thing that beats sleeping late on Sunday morning is the fabulous brunch at LEHR'S GREENHOUSE in San Francisco, where you dine in a beautiful garden in full bloom. Start with an eye-opening Ramos Fizz, Bloody Mary or glass of wine, then feast on a bountiful array of delicious foods. ... Lobster (when in season) is a delicacy particularly enjoyed at VINCE'S Italian and Seafood restaurant. Lobster is served in seven different ways, including Newburg, thermidor, broiled, a la king, sauteed with mushrooms, etc., all strictly the freshest possible, as they come right from VINCE'S FRESH SEAFOOD DEPOT adjacent to the restaurant. A hospitable atmosphere pervades the attractive SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S dinner house in Redwood City. Booths and tables are cozily arranged in the main dining room, and smaller adjoining rooms are equally inviting, ideal for parties. ... A single rose in a cut glass bud vase on each table symbolizes the meticulous care which goes into everything at BIAGI'S swank European restaurant in Redwood City (near Atherton). Genial co-owner DAN BIAGI often goes to the florist himself to personally select the finest roses or other flowers for this romantic touch in the Mediterranean atmosphere. ... Although dinner and Sunday brunch most often come to mind when you think of the exotic BRASS ELEPHANT ROOM with its decor and atmosphere reminiscent of Colonial "Old Injah," you can also enjoy breakfast and lunch here (the 20-foot Salad Table extravaganza is very popular during lunch and dinner hours). With so many travelers choosing the GROSVENOR AIRPORT INN in South San Francisco, where the Brass Elephant Room is the big attraction, plus meetings and conventions, you know the food has to be good to please so many. Chris Vlassis, owner of La Pinata Mexican restaurant in downtown Burlingame, "takes five" from his hosting duties to review important office details.

In response to popular demand, dinner will now be served seven days a week from 5 to 10 p.m. at the famed old landmark CYPRESS HOUSE restaurant and lounge in Half Moon Bay. Owner HAI KUN CHOI said a "daily special" dinner will also be served each day for only $5.25. It will include soup or help-yourself salad bar, entree with potatoes and vegetables, and complimentary glass of wine. The lounge opens every day at 3:30 p.m., with "happy hour" until 6:30 p.m. A lavish brunch is served on Sundays from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. ... THE LEANING TOWER restaurant in South San Francisco boasts a quarter century of serving fine Italian food in the Tuscany style. The carefully selected wine list is the perfect complement to the extensive menu. Co-owners JOE ERCOLI and son JOE JR. have a list of fine wines from Italy, France, Portugal, Germany and, of course, from California vintners. ... Beer is big with fanciers of robust home cooked German and European dishes, and those who have been to TILLIE'S "THE" FRANKFURT restaurant in Moss Beach are very much aware of the dazzling array of genuine German and other imported beers, as well as domestic brands, that Owner TILLIE SCHOLTZ always has available. Tillie's is not a "beer joint" — it's just fine food with a lot of fine beers to enhance the menu.

If a party of three or four couples would like their own table and private chef to do a special hibachi-grill lunch or dinner, HANA JAPAN Japanese Steak House in San Mateo is the place to gather. Six or eight guests are seated around the grill top semi-circular tables, then Co-owner chef DENNY YOON or AKIO YOSHIDA does his dazzling number of chopping, slicing, and dicing. ... Even dieters can't resist the lavish desserts, prepared tableside, at PHIL LEHR'S Pay-By-Ounce Steakery, on the lower level of the S.F. Hilton Tower. Phil's exclusive flaming Peach Pernod is the perfect finale to a superb steak or continental dinner. ... A thrilling setting at the edge of the vast Pacific with its surging surf is one of the reasons why THE MOONRAKER, an elegant penthouse restaurant at beautiful Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, attracts so many from far and near for intimate dining as well as for group parties. ... The standards of excellence that owner chef VINCENZO LA GRASSO insists upon cause him to go to a lot of extra trouble to procure only the finest ingredients for the gourmet menu at his elegant DAL BAFFO European restaurant in downtown Menlo Park. Fresh oysters, clams, etc. are flown in from Boston and Chesapeake Bay. Handsome Keny Stewart with his "girls" is delighting audiences at Finocchio's with his ventriloquism in four different shows nightly, except Mondays and Thursdays. Finocchio's, in business for over 43 years, has a reputation for consistently offering top quality entertainment.

Paintings on exhibit at gallery

Neita (Mymy) Farmer, author, poet and artist of Burlingame, will exhibit paintings in abstract and representational style during the run of the musical "The Boyfriend," through April 5 at the Hillbarn Foyer Gallery, 1285 E. Hillsdale Blvd., Foster City.

Ms. Farmer paints in a fluid style with a subtle color sense. A feeling for nature informs her work.

The animal paintings catch the intensity of the fleeting moment while the abstracts give a sense of timelessness.

These could be striations of rocks or desert mirages. Another painting is a stark statement of the spirit of Mies Van der Rohe's Barcelona Chair.

The paintings are acrylic and large.

They are poetic statements which reflect the artist's concern with making the effable visible and giving stirrings of the human heart a place in time.

Ms. Farmer, former art reviewer for a local newspaper, is a graduate of University of California Santa Barbara, University of California San Francisco and studied at the San Francisco Art Institute. Further studies were with Dick Bowman and Fred Reichman.

She is the recipient of many awards and has works in collections throughout the world.

The Hillbarn Foyer Gallery is a 12-year-old community service gallery located in the foyer of famed community theater Hillbarn.

All artworks are for sale.

Digest

California economy

Robert Gomperts, vice president of the World Affairs Council, will lead an informal discussion on "The Impact of World Trade on the California Economy" March 18 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the home of Renee Kaseff, 525 Hurlingham Ave., San Mateo.

For reservations, call Timmie Will, 345-5241.

Stop smoking

A-day plan to stop smoking will be conducted nightly at 7:30 o'clock beginning March 30 through April 3 by Alex R. Hall, with a staff of medical personnel at the Ocean View Senior Citizens Inn, at the corner of Crespi and Roberts Roads in Pacifica.

There is a registration fee of $10 to cover cost of materials presented.

This is community service of the Pacifica Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Silent auction

The 22nd annual Silent Auction and Luncheon presented by the Peninsula Auxiliary Lighthouse for the Blind has reserved the San Francisco Airport Hilton Hotel March 19 for charity benefit.

Doors will open at 11:30 and luncheon at 12:30.

The 311-acre co-educational resident summer camp above the Napa Valley is designed for legally blind, deaf-blind and visually impaired children and adults.

Efforts are made to stress independence in the campers. The program includes swimming, horseback riding, baseball, skating bowling, archery, hiking, gardening, plant identification, music, drama and arts and crafts.

Proceeds from the affair will be contributed to Enchanted Hills Summer camp to renovate the existing cabins and to replace laundry equipment.

IN EXERCISE

Marine 1st Lt. John R. Gerhardt, son of Jack R. and Carol Gerhardt of 1840 Louvaine Drive, Colma, recently participated in exercise "Phiblex 12-79."

He is the embarkation officer of the 32nd Marine Amphibious Unit (MAU), based at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Conducted on the Italian island of Sardinia, the exercise was designed to increase proficiency of U.S. forces. It included beach and helicopter assaults and live fire operations.

The 32nd MAU is the force-in-readiness for the U.S. 6th Fleet, on call to project combined air-ground forces ashore.

"I lost all the weight I wanted to lose with Dexatrim."

I lost 17 pounds in 4 weeks, and I wasn't bothered by hunger pains. For me, losing weight was much easier with the Dexatrim Diet Plan."*

Michelle Dempsey Elkens

Kansas City, Kansas

Dexatrim . . . the time release way to lose weight

People from all over the country are writing to us about their results with the Dexatrim Diet Plan. Many tell us Dexatrim helped them lose the weight they couldn't lose alone.

Proven effective in seven years of clinical tests. Just one Dexatrim capsule can help curb your appetite during meals and in-between for up to 12 full hours.

And now, there's Extra Strength Dexatrim, with 50% more appetite suppressant . . . . . there isn't a stronger capsule available direct to the public.

So if you want to lose weight without going hungry, try Dexatrim . . . the time-release way to lose weight!

TAKE WEIGHT OFF AND KEEP IT OFF

The big problem with most dieting is the yo-yo syndrome. You lose weight . . . you gain it back. The scale goes down and then back up again.

The exciting Prolamine Diet Plan is designed to help you take weight off and keep it off. And it works . . . Prolamine effectively curbs your appetite to help you get your figure down to its most attractive size and shape, and keep it that way.

U.S. GOVT. MEDICAL ADVISORY PANEL DECLARES PROLAMINE INGREDIENTS SAFE* AND EFFECTIVE

A U.S. Government Panel of Doctors and Scientists spent 4 years studying the safety and effectiveness of all diet aids. Their conclusion: Prolamine ingredients work. Other Doctors tested Prolamine ingredients on hundreds of patients over 7 years, and also concluded: Prolamine works. It's safe, taken as directed, and effective for appetite control and to aid weight loss. The U.S. Panel was unanimous.

Thousands of users, just like yourself, from all over the country, have written about their success with Prolamine. Like Laura Watson in Los Angeles lost 49 pounds, from 176 pounds to 127 pounds and has maintained her best weight for more than 2 years. Jane Whittaker writes that she started Prolamine in 1975, lost more than 45 pounds, down to 120 pounds and is still at her ideal weight by using Prolamine occasionally whenever her appetite acts up. Take weight off and keep it off or your money back in full from manufacturer.

Important Note Regarding Prices

The prices shown in the right-hand column on each page of this catalog are for reference only, and no representation is made to the effect that any of these prices is the usual or ordinary price at which a particular item is sold, or our present or former selling price. These reference prices are provided to you as a guide to the range of retail selling prices in our catalog distribution area. They are often useful in identifying different units of the same manufacturer.

Most of the prices shown in the right hand column are manufacturer's suggested retail prices supplied to Consumers Distributing. Where manufacturers do not supply suggested retail prices, Consumers Distributing has applied to its cost mark-up percentages based on trade customs (which commonly vary with respect to various types of items) to arrive at a price which it considers to be in accordance with customary trade practices. In any event, these prices may vary in different trading areas depending on shipping and other costs and circumstances which might affect such a price.

No user of this catalog should assume that a savings will be effected or realized in an amount equal to the difference between the figure in the right-hand column and the Consumers Distributing price. In some cases, other retailers may be selling goods at prices equal to or less than Consumers Distributing price for the purpose of clearing goods which are end-of-line or stale merchandise, or by reason of their ordinary business practices.

- All prices are subject to change without notice due to manufacturer's increases or decreases, changes in federal or state taxation or world fluctuations of currencies or the prices of gold, gems and precious metals.
- We're only human, so the occasional error may slip through. We are not responsible for typographical and transpositional errors.
- Unforeseen temporary shortages of our sale items may occur. On request we will give you a rain check valid for 30 days to insure the sale price on the item you want. Or if you were unable to obtain the item in 30 days, you may choose a comparable in-stock item and we will sell you the item at the comparable saving.
- Mfg. rebates are obtained by mailing the mfg. coupons supplied at the time of purchase.
